

International Conference on Ecology and Transportation

ICOET 2025 Presentation Guidelines

Overview

ICOET will include in-person and virtual Podium Talks and Lightning Talk as well as in-person Poster presentations at its 2025 conference. Presentations at ICOET address diverse topics which describe current project or planning activities, research findings, emerging issues, or best practices related to the interface between transportation and other linear infrastructure systems and ecosystems.

All lightning and podium presentations will be recorded and all presentations (including posters) posted within 2 weeks of the conference conclusion for all registered participants to access. In order to facilitate this process, we will be using the presentation materials that are given to us at the time of the conference in addition to the recordings at the time of the conference. If updates need to be made, please reach out to slemieux@ucdavis.edu before the end of ICOET 2025.

Here are the Box links to upload your presentations:

Presentation Types

Your abstract was accepted for one of the presentation types described below, which may be different from the type you preferred. During the selection process, the Program Committee may have accepted an abstract author to present in a different format than requested. This can occur for various reasons, such as when abstract reviewers recommend a particular format for a presentation, or when improving the ICOET program topics requires the Committee to expand or limit selected abstracts to a presentation type that can best fit into the program.

Podium Presentations (orally presented in-person or virtually)

Scientific research papers, case studies, and similar technical topics are presented at ICOET in 90 minute podium sessions which run concurrently in the agenda on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. Four presentations/talks are grouped per session, with 15 minutes allotted for each presenter to address the topic and 5 minutes for each presenter to answer questions from the audience. Presenters may use PowerPoint or Adobe PDF slides and other audiovisual media to support their remarks. The audio-visual system is optimized for wide-format slides (16:9), so for the best quality presentations should be 16:9. Presenters can still use 4:3, but the tradeoff is that the image will be smaller and have less clarity.

Q&A will be done via Slido as well as in-person.

We are requesting that all presenters (in-person and virtual) upload their presentations to the Box folder corresponding to the day they are giving their presentation by Friday, May 9th. This will help us streamline prepping for presentations. Please name your file upload like this: "Conference Date, Session #, Start time per agenda, abstract #"

In-person presenters will need to check in with AV staff in their respective session room 15 to 30 minutes before their scheduled presentation to make sure their presentation is loaded into the correct room. Please bring a backup of your presentation on a USB/thumb drive to avoid any last minute issues.

Virtual presenters must upload their slides ahead of time to the Box folder above and will present live via Zoom and share their screen to give their presentation. Virtual presenters please make sure to be on Zoom at least 20 minutes prior to your scheduled presentation time. It is also recommended that you test run your presentation via Zoom in the days leading up to your presentation. Zoom details will be sent out separately.

Lightning Talks (orally presented in-person or virtually)

Lightning talks are intended to spark discussion on new ideas, emerging issues, or developing research. Lightning talks are allotted 7 minutes each within a 90-minute session, grouped by the Program Committee in thematic "sets." Each talk is allowed 1 minute of question/answer and, time permitting, each set of talks may be followed by a brief audience Q&A/discussion period. A lightning session includes 8 to 10 talks and runs concurrently with podium sessions on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday. Presenters may use PowerPoint or PDF slides. It is recommended that a maximum of 7 slides are presented. The audio-visual system is optimized for wide-format slides (16:9), so for the best quality presentations should be 16:9. Presenters can still use 4:3 slide format, but the tradeoff is that the image will be smaller and have less clarity. The lightning sessions will be “strongly” moderated, to keep talks on time and respect all participants’ contributions.

Q&A will be done via Slido as well as in-person.

Poster Presentations

Composition of the poster is up to the author, but posters must at least include the title, authors’ names and affiliations, and description of its relationship to the conference. Posters can be up to 4 feet long and 3 feet tall in landscape format. We suggest no font size be smaller than 18 pt, but ideally larger. The poster should also include the following sections, or something similar:

- Abstract
- Background/Introduction
- Methods/Approach
- Results/Findings
- Discussion/Conclusions

Cited articles should be referenced in full according to accepted international standards.

Posters at ICOET are displayed in a group setting and scheduled for a 120-minute session on Tuesday evening (5/13), combined with a reception. The poster session is a plenary event so all conference participants may attend. Authors must be present with the posters to discuss their information with interested attendees.

Posters should be set up in their designated spot as early as possible on Monday, May 12th, 2025. Please see Registration for the location of your poster. There are designated times listed on the ICOET 2025 Program to assist with time management. It is encouraged that posters remain up throughout the conference. Posters should be taken down by 1pm on Thursday, May 15th, 2025. Failure to take down posters before the deadline will result in them being thrown away.
