

WELCOME TO BURLINGTON, VERMONT!

Conference Location: Hilton Champlain Burlington, Vermont

Burlington, Vermont is a cozy breathtaking little town, with a lot of rich history at every street corner. Burlington is located on the northwest side of Vermont, on the eastern shore of Lake Champlain, south of the Canadian border and west of New York. The heartbeat of the downtown is shops and restaurants that line the well known pedestrianized Church Street Marketplace, where you can find everything you need. North of downtown, the Ethan Allen Homestead Museum is a former home of the Revolutionary War hero. The University of Vermont is about 15 minutes walking distance from the Hilton.

BIKE TRAILS:

The Hilton offers 8 complimentary bicycles. You can ride around town on bike friendly streets, and also along Lake Champlain. The bike path along the waterfront goes into Canada and is mostly paved, but unpaved in some parts. You can find the link to the Island Line Trail Map PDF-here.

Why is the hotel expensive?

Hotel rates are set when the contract is signed with the hotel. This is often five years in advance. Hotel planners are more inclined to bargain in bad times than good ones, even though the event itself will take place far in the future, when the economy could be in a different state. Rates also vary by season.
